Arabic Second Language Learning and Effects of Input, Transfer, and Typology Mohammad T. Alhawary, 2019-02-25
Despite the status of Arabic as a global language and the high demand to learn it, the field of Arabic second language acquisition remains underinvestigated. Second language acquisition findings are crucial for informing and advancing the field of Arabic foreign language pedagogy including Arabic language teaching, testing, and syllabus design. Arabic Second Language Learning and Effects of Input, Transfer, and Typology provides data-driven empirical findings for a number of basic and high-frequency morphosyntactic structures with two novel typological language pairings, examining Arabic second language acquisition data from adult L1 Chinese- and Russian-speaking learners of Arabic as a foreign language. Alhawary's study examines the different processes, hypotheses, and acquisition tendencies from the two learner groups, and documents the extent of the successes and challenges faced by such learners in their L2 Arabic grammatical development during the first three years of learning the language. In addition, the book offers both theoretical and practical implications related to input exposure, L1 and L2 transfer, and typological and structural proximity effects. This book serves as a valuable resource for both second language acquisition experts and foreign language teaching practitioners.

mafatih al jinan, The Translator's Preface Among the religious traditions of mankind the Shi'ah tradition within Islam is unmatched in its rich corpus of devotional texts (duci and ziyirah literature) handed down from the original teachers and leaders of the faith, the Prophet Mu'ammar and the Imams of his family, the Ahl al-Bayt. This tradition begins with the Qur'in—its opening sfrah being an essential part of the Muslim ritual prayer (that is, Yalih, as opposed to duci in the sense of supplication and petition-ary texts)—which, besides citing many prayers made by the former prophets, beginning with Adam, suggests several supplications for the devout. In accordance with the Qur'inic teaching, Islam views itself not as a novel and insular phenomenon in the religious history of mankind, but as the culminating link in a prophetic chain that began with Adam, the first man and recipient of Divine revelations, and, after a cataclysmic phase marked by the ministry of Noah, which signified the end of an era and beginning of a new, culminated in the figure of Abraham, whom the Qur'in describes as a follower of Noah...

How to Learn Arabic Fast* I Want to Learn Arabic * Arabiyyah-Bayna-yadayk-book-1 * Medina Arabic Book Abdur Rahman, 2017-04-30 How to Learn Arabic Fast/Arabya bayna Yadayk-Arabic At your Hands the best book to learn arabic. The great thing about these books is it covers a lot of vocabulary through pictures, Images and using Arabic Only, introduces the students to grammar later and gradually rather than pushing them at the deep end before they can swim. Much like Arabic Course for English Speaking Students. It is more Islamically inclined and fulfills the desire for the student of knowledge to learn the language of the Qur'an.
