Welcoming Heaven Josephine Massyngberde Ford,1990

Twilight Passages Hanoch Guy Kaner,2020-06-07 The Yiddish writer Moyshe Leyb Halpern wrote, in his poem Memento Mori, "And should Moyshe-Leyb, the poet, say / That he saw Death... /Just as he sees himself in the mirror... / Will they believe Moyshe-Leyb?" These poems by Hanoch Guy-Kaner may occasion a like incredulity. After all, if, as Wittgenstein asserted, "Death is not an event in life: we do not live to experience death," then what about the contending, equally experiential statement by Rebbe Bunam of Przysucha about himself that "All my life I have been learning how to die"? Hanoch Guy-Kaner does not care to explain or reconcile the seeming paradox---if there is one, or even to prefer one assertion to the other. Himself a poet, like Moyshe-Leyb, he too sees his long-familiar neighbor, Death, just as he sees himself in the mirror. Thus these poems, each of them a memento vitae, are each a kind of self-portrait as well. And as with late Rembrandt self-portraits, these poems too, in the words of John Berger, "contain or embody a paradox: they are clearly about old age, yet they address the future. They assume something coming toward them apart from Death." A "something" which he, the poet, sees already, remembers already (and for which, it would seem, Death itself is the mirror). But will they believe Hanoch Guy-Kaner? "Death stands behind you On the supermarket long line As other unexpected events" Robert Margolis We dread it. We avoid thinking about it but it is present all the time. The poems in this book are explorations of the unknowable and nightmares. The poet pulls veils from what is beyond but so close and tangible for a journey like no other in which we call upon angels.spirits and souls. We visit heaven and hell and hope to enter though the gate of mercy. HGK

1001 Life Changing Quotes 4 Teens Laura Lyseight,2010-03 Jesus says profoundly, The words that I speak, they are Spirit and they are life. Words live and have incredible power, so watch what words you speak. Colours fade, temples crumble, empires fall, but wise words endure. Edwards Thorndike. The power found in words cannot be understated. They can be explosive dynamite destroying or they can be cautious uplifting words. Kind words can be short and easy to speak, but their echoes are truly endless. Mother Teresa. What lasting impressions are you making with the words you are speaking?

The spoken word has life or death in it. Words can motivate you to do more or do the exact opposite. They can equally build you up or pull you down. Throughout history, all successful people have been known to tap into the world of wise words. They have continually stayed motivated and challenged by insightful words from others and this book has the compilation of wise, life transforming quotes to help you as a teen chart your successful path in life. Benjamin Franklin. Teens are not monsters. They are just people trying to learn how to make it among the adults in the world, who are probably not so sure themselves. Virginia Satir.

Hello from Heaven Bill Guggenheim, Judy Guggenheim, 2012-09-05 Is there life after death? Will we be reunited with our deceased loved ones when we die? Can they communicate with us now? Hello From Heaven! is the first complete study of an exciting new field of research called After-Death Communication, or ADC. This is a spiritual experience that occurs when a person is contacted directly and spontaneously by a family member or friend who has died. During their seven years of research, the authors collected more than 3,300 firsthand accounts from people who believe they have been contacted by a deceased loved one. The 353 ADC accounts in Hello From Heaven! offer:

- Hope for those who yearn to be reunited with a loved one who has died
- Courage and strength for those who have a life-threatening illness
- Inspiration for caregivers to the elderly and terminally ill
- Insight and reassurance for those who are fearful of death
- Inner peace for those whose hearts and minds are awaiting this good news

You will treasure these uplifting messages from those who continue to exist in a life beyond physical death. Their profound communications of love offer comfort, hope, and spiritual inspiration to all readers.

The River of Life Renford , Renford, 2009-09-30 The River of Life is an allegory with many symbols. It is a modern day parable about the eternal nature of being. Everything is a cycle and full of purpose. The being in fulfillment had no beginning and will have no end. It cannot be destroyed. Like a cell of the human body, which can be cloned, the soul is a cell of Universal Being with the same natural power of the whole. There is always communication between the whole and the part, but we are mostly unaware. 'The language of the mind' can only be understood by recognizing the way Inner Being, via the subconscious mind, communicates with the conscious. Only through meditation or dreams, when the conscious mind is induced to be quiet, can Inner Being communicate and conscious mind benefit.

Soul to Soul Christine Robinson, Alicia Hawkins, 2012 Soul to Soul continues on the vibrant small group gatherings of the author's previous work Heart to Heart. This elegant program guide for spiritual sharing offers small groups the opportunity to connect through readings, journaling assignments, and thought-provoking exercises on topics ranging from forgiveness and loss to nature, money and friendship. An easy-to-use handbook for both leaders and participants, Soul to Soul offers exercises for personal contemplation before each meeting and outlines a program for sharing these reflections in a small group. It presents a model for careful, uninterrupted listening that allows participants to feel truly heard.

Genre in World Englishes Susanne Mühleisen, 2022-08-15 World Englishes and English in postcolonial contexts have been curiously neglected in an otherwise abundant research literature on text types and genres in English. This volume looks at the adaptation, transformation and emergence of genres in the particular cultural context of the Anglophone Caribbean. A comprehensive framework for the investigation of text production in postcolonial and global English communities is followed by empirically based case studies on specific text formats such as recipes, death notices and obituaries, letters to the editor, newspaper advice columns, radio phone-in programmes, online forums and the music genre calypso. Influences from oral versus literate culture as well as status and function of English versus Creole are considered by highlighting written, spoken and digital genres. All chapters present surveys from a historical and cross-cultural perspective before exploring specific linguistic and cultural features in the Caribbean texts. This volume will be highly relevant for researchers in World Englishes and Caribbean studies, postcolonial pragmatics, genre and media studies as well as linguistic anthropology.
