The Archaeology of Peasantry in Roman Spain Jesús Bermejo Tirado, Ignasi Grau Mira, 2022-01-19 This volume aims to present an updated portrait of the Roman countryside in Roman Spain by the comparison of different theoretical orientations and methodological strategies including the discussion of textual and iconographic sources and the analysis of the faunal remains. The archaeology of rural areas of the Roman world has traditionally been focused on the study of villae, both as an architectural model of Roman otium and as the central core of an economic system based on the extensive agricultural exploitation of latifundia. The assimilation of most rural settlements in provincial areas of the Roman Empire with the villa model implies the acceptance of specific ideas, such as the generalization of the slave mode of production, the rupture of the productive capacity of Late Iron Age communities, or the reduction in importance of free peasant labor in the Roman economy of most rural areas. However, in recent decades, as a consequence of the generalized extension of preventive or emergency archaeology and survey projects in most areas of the ancient territories of the Roman Empire, this traditional conception of the Roman countryside articulated around monumental villae is undergoing a thorough revision. New research projects are changing our current perception of the countryside of most parts of the Roman provincial world by assessing the importance of different types of rural settlements. In the last years, we have witnessed the publication of archaeological reports on the excavation of thousands of small rural sites, farms, farmsteads, enclosures, rural agglomerations of diverse nature, etc. One of the main consequences of all this research activity is a vigorous discussion of the paradigm of the slave mode of production as the basis of Roman rural economies in many provincial areas. A similar change in the paradigm is taking place, with some delay, in the archaeology of Roman Spain. After decades of preventive/emergency interventions there is a considerable quantity of unpublished data on this kind of rural settlements. However, unlike the cases of Roman Britain or Gallia Comata, no synthesis or national projects are undertaking the task of systematizing all these data. With the intention of addressing this current situation the present volume discusses the results and methodological strategies of different projects studying peasant settlements in several regions of Roman Spain.

Economie et territoire en Lusitanie romaine Jean Gérard Gorges, Francisco Germán Rodríguez Martín, 1999 Depuis plusieurs années, la Lusitanie romaine fait l'objet d'une attention soutenue de la part des chercheurs. Dans la lignée de précédentes rencontres scientifiques consacrées aux villes, puis aux formes de l'habitat et de l'occupation du sol dans les campagnes lusitaniennes, les articles ici rassemblés, issus pour l'essentiel de deux tables rondes organisées à Madrid par la Casa de Velázquez, s'attachent à étudier le territoire de cette province occidentale du monde romain et son aménagement. Un territoire ne peut se concevoir indépendamment de l'économie qui s'y plante : la seconde section du livre propose donc l'examen de quelques-unes des principales productions lusitaniennes, qu'elles soient en rapport avec l'exploitation des ressources traditionnelles de la vie rurale ou qu'elles découlent directement du contexte culturel, fondamentalement romain, qui fut celui de cette exploitation. Il s'agit donc d'une suite ou, si l'on préfère, d'un complément à des travaux collectifs qui s'attachent depuis bientôt dix ans à mieux comprendre, dans cette partie périphérique de l'Empire, les relations complexes qui se sont développées entre l'homme romanisé et le territoire qu'il occupe, qu'il s'agisse de le vivre, de l'administrer ou encore de l'exploiter.

Paisajes romanos en el sur de la Provincia Tarraconense. Análisis arqueológico de la estructura territorial y el modelo socioeconómico Ignacio Grau Mira,Jaime Molina Vidal,Julia Sarabia Bautista,Daniel Mateo Corredor,2023-09-28 Este volumen recoge los resultados de un estudio integral de los componentes del paisaje romano en algunas comarcas meridionales de la Provincia Tarraconense. Para llevarlo a cabo, hemos diseñado un conjunto de líneas de trabajo que nos han permitido avanzar en el conocimiento de los agrosistemas romanos que van más allá de los sistemas centuriados; estudiar los modelos de explotación del campo a partir de prácticas de carácter intensivo ligadas a asentamientos campesinos diversos de las villas rurales; confirmar las dificultades para afirmar el supuesto carácter hegemónico de los modelos de agricultura basados en manos de obra servil, predominantes solo en la Italia tardorrepública; analizar los modos de concentración y gestión de excedentes a pequeña escala, las redes de intercambio regional y su papel en las estructuras comerciales de carácter suprarregional; o investigar los patrones de poblamiento para identificar correlaciones significativas entre distribución y densidad en varias escalas de análisis, más allá de los centros urbanos. El marco geográfico se centra especialmente en los territorios romanos de las antiguas Saetabis, Dianium y Alone, en las comarcas centro-meridionales valencianas. En concreto, tratamos en cada capítulo los métodos, estrategias de análisis y principales resultados de la investigación llevada a cabo en varios paisajes romanos rurales periféricos (Ull de Canals en Banyeres de Mariola o Les Hortes Sud en Ibi) y periurbanos (Els Ecles-La Rana en Gata de Gorgos y Les Hortes en Xaló) del norte de la provincia de Alicante.

Lugares, tempos e pessoas: povoamento rural romano no Alto Alentejo - vol. I André Carneiro,2014-12-01 O propósito do presente estudo centra-se na leitura do que terá sido a rede de povoamento rural em época romana na região do Alto Alentejo. Uma área territorial extensa e com uma paisagem muito diversa, o que permite tentar perceber como se alteram os padrões de organização de sítios, em função desse quadro natural, mas também das comunidades que já habitavam este território. Também o tempo escolhido é intencionalmente longo, pois na análise considera-se a evolução desde o estabelecimento da paisagem imperial até à data de 711, marco temporal que de alguma forma se assume como signifiante para estabelecer a fronteira com o mundo antigo. Assim, com uma forte componente de trabalho de prospecção, procede-se a uma análise dos factores que motivaram a criação de uma paisagem onde, durante o Império e a Antiguidade Tardia, as mais diversas pessoas habitaram e modificaram o território que é hoje o Alto Alentejo. The aim of the present study is to offer a reading of what the distribution of the rural population of Alto Alentejo may have looked like in Roman times. Dealing with such an extensive territorial area and with such a diverse landscape has allowed us to better understand how the patterns of organisation of rural human settlements were influenced both by the natural environment as well as the pre-existing rural communities. The period studied is intentionally long: our analysis begins with the formation of the imperial landscape and ends in 711, a milestone which is considered significant in establishing the boundary with the Ancient World. Drawing on substantial work of archaeological prospection, this study therefore proceeds to analyse the factors that motivated the creation of a landscape that was inhabited and modified throughout Empire and Late Antiquity by many diverse people.
