Creative Selection between Emending and Forming Medieval Memory Sebastian Scholz, Gerald

Schwedler, 2021-11-08 Karl Valentin once asked: How can it be that only as much happens as fits into the newspaper the next day? He focussed on the problem that information of the past has to be organised, arranged and above all: selected and put into form in order to be perceived as a whole. In this sense, the process of selection must be seen as the fundamental moment – the “Urszene” – of making History. This book shows selection as highly creative act. With the richness of early medieval material it can be demonstrated that creative selection was omnipresent and took place even in unexpected text genres. The book demonstrates the variety how premodern authors dealt with unimportant, unpleasant or unwanted past. It provides a general overview for regions and text genres in early medieval Europe.

Kirchenraum und Liturgie Andreas Möhlig, 2016-10-24 Der Aachener Dom stellt in vielerlei Hinsicht eine Besonderheit dar: als Pfalzkapelle und Bestattungsort Karls des Großen, als Krönungskirche der deutschen Könige im Mittelalter, als Wallfahrtskirche oder als Kathedrale der Diözese Aachen. Daneben war er aber auch über viele Jahrhunderte mehrmals täglich genutzter liturgischer Raum eines Kanonikerstifts. Das Buch nimmt den ältesten Liber ordinarius des Aachener Marienstifts aus dem 14. Jahrhundert in den Blick und zeigt auf, wie sich durch die Erweiterung des Kirchenraumes um die 1414 geweihte gotische Chorrhalle auch die liturgischen Handlungen des Kanonikerstifts veränderten. Mit der nun vorgelegten Edition des Ordinarium de tempore wird zudem die Grundlage geschaffen, weitere interdisziplinäre Untersuchungen zu ermöglichen.

Care for the Here and the Hereafter Truus van Bueren, Andrea van Leerdam, 2005 Based on papers given by historians, art historians and musicologists during two conferences devoted to memoria in the Middle Ages, held in Utrecht in 2000 and 2001.

Cosmos and Community in Early Medieval Art Benjamin Anderson, 2017-02-28 In the rapidly changing world of the early Middle Ages, depictions of the cosmos represented a consistent point of reference across the three dominant states—the Frankish, Byzantine, and Islamic Empires. As these empires diverged from their Greco-Roman roots between 700 and 1000 A.D. and established distinctive medieval artistic traditions, cosmic imagery created a web of visual continuity, though local meanings of these images varied greatly. Benjamin Anderson uses thrones, tables, mantles, frescoes, and manuscripts to show how cosmological motifs informed relationships between individuals, especially the ruling elite, and communities, demonstrating how domestic and global politics informed the production and reception of these depictions. The first book to consider such imagery across the dramatically diverse cultures of Western Europe, Byzantium, and the Islamic Middle East, Cosmos and Community in Early Medieval Art illuminates the distinctions between the cosmological art of these three cultural spheres, and reasserts the centrality of astronomical imagery to the study of art history.

Living with the Dead in the Middle Ages Patrick J. Geary,2018-07-05 Whereas modern societies tend to banish the dead from the world of the living, medieval men and women accorded them a vital role in the community. The saints counted most prominently as potential intercessors before God, but the ordinary dead as well were called upon to aid the living, and even to participate in the negotiation of political disputes. In this book, the distinguished medievalist Patrick J. Geary shows how exploring the complex relations between the living and dead can broaden our understanding of the political, economic, and cultural history of medieval Europe. Geary has brought together for this volume twelve of his most influential essays. They address such topics as the development of saints' cults and of the concept of sacred space; the integration of saints' cults into the lives of ordinary people; patterns of relic circulation; and the role of the dead in negotiating the claims and counterclaims of various interest groups. Also included are two case studies of communities that enlisted new patron saints to solve their problems. Throughout, Geary demonstrates that, by reading actions, artifacts, and rituals on an equal footing with texts, we can better grasp the otherness of past societies.

The Nave Sculpture of Vézelay Kirk Ambrose,2006 This scholarly work fundamentally changes the way we think about the monastic church of Vézelay and its sculptures. Kirk Ambrose provides a new account of the celebrated sculptural ensemble at this important French Romanesque monastic church. Whereas scholarly attention in the past has focused almost exclusively on the Pentecostal portal, Ambrose devotes most of his analysis to the nave capitals. He considers how these works intersect with various aspects of monastic culture, from poetry to a sign language used during observed periods of silence. From this study it emerges how many of the sculptures resonated with communal practices and with interpretive modes in use at the site. Deeming the attempt to uncover an underlying or unifying program to be an anachronistic project, Ambrose explores historically specific ways this ensemble cohered for medieval viewers. Covering a range of themes, including hagiography, ornament, and violence, he develops alternative approaches for the examination of serial imagery. As a result, this book has broad implications for the study of eleventh- and twelfth-century art in the West.--BOOK JACKET.

German Stoneware, 1200-1900 David R. M. Gaimster,R. J. C. Hildyard,1997 Stoneware provides vital evidence for regional and international trade, political and religious propaganda, social behaviour, living conditions and design trends.

The Sainte-Chapelle and the Construction of Sacral Monarchy Meredith Cohen, 2015 This book offers a novel perspective on one of the most important monuments of French Gothic architecture, the Sainte-Chapelle, constructed in Paris by King Louis IX of France between 1239 and 1248 especially to hold and to celebrate Christ's Crown of Thorns. Meredith Cohen argues that the chapel's architecture, decoration, and use conveyed the notion of sacral kingship to its audience in Paris and in greater Europe, thereby implicitly elevating the French king to the level of suzerain, and establishing an early visual precedent for the political theories of royal sovereignty and French absolutism. By setting the chapel within its broader urban and royal contexts, this book offers new insight into royal representation and the rise of Paris as a political and cultural capital in the thirteenth century.

Sources for the History of Emotions Katie Barclay, Sharon Crozier-De Rosa, Peter N. Stearns, 2020-06-03 Offering insights on the wide range of sources that are available from across the globe and throughout history for the study of the history of emotions, this book provides students with a handbook for beginning their own research within the field. Divided into three parts, Sources for the History of Emotions begins by giving key starting points into the ethical, methodological and theoretical issues in the field. Part II shows how emotions historians have proved imaginative in their discovering and use of varied materials, considering such sources as rituals, relics and religious rhetoric, prescriptive literature, medicine, science and psychology, and fiction, while Part III offers introductions to some of the big or emerging topics in the field, including embodied emotions, comparative emotions, and intersectionality and emotion. Written by key scholars of emotions history, the book shows readers the ways in which different sources can be used to extract information about the history of emotions, highlighting the kind of data available and how it can be used in a field for which there is no convenient archive of sources. The focused discussion of sources offered in this book, which not only builds on existing research, but encourages further efforts, makes it ideal reading and a key resource for all students of emotions history.

The Rule, the Bible, and the Council Diana Gisolfi, Staale Sinding-Larsen, 1998 Diana Gisolfi and Staale Sinding-Larsen begin with a reconstruction of the sixteenth-century library room using physical, on-site evidence, extant documents concerning the furnishings, measurements of the paintings, and early descriptions to re-create with computer technology the room furnished and decorated in 1562-ca. 1570. Once reconstructed, the program in the twenty-four ceiling and wall canvases by Zelotti is revealed as doctrinal. Following a close reading of the images with reference to biblical texts, the authors assemble Benedictine and Conciliar material through which to evaluate and interpret the program.

Das Bild des Anderen Georg Jostkleigrew, 2009-01-01 Wie entstehen Fremdbilder? Welche Faktoren prägen sie, welche Wirkungen erzielen sie? Dienen sie vor allem der gegenseitigen Abgrenzung? Lassen sie sich politisch funktionalisieren und manipulieren? Im Laboratorium des europäischen Mittelalters werden diese modern anmutenden Fragen von einer anderen, vormodernen Warte aus beleuchtet. Mit Deutschland und Frankreich stehen dabei zwei Gebilde im Mittelpunkt, die die europäische Geschichte bis heute bestimmen. Um so aufschlussreicher ist es, Traditionslinien und Brüche der wechselseitigen Wahrnehmung bereits in der volkssprachlichen Kultur des hohen und späten Mittelalters nachzuzeichnen.
