Rachel S Tattersall

Beyond Combat Tristan Moss, Tom Richardson, 2018-07-01 War is only a small part of military life. Uniformed men and women spend the vast majority of their time away from combat, training, receiving medical attention, burying the dead and undertaking the myriad tasks of survival in an operational zone. Beyond Combat explores how the military manages its 'other' roles, as well as the experiences of the servicemen and women themselves. With contributions from Christina Twomey, Noah Riseman, Shirleene Robinson and Major Clare O'Neill, among others, Beyond Combat is a ground-breaking examination of life beyond the frontline.

Minor Miracles Second Edition Ian Uhlmann, 2014-03-30 Ian Uhlmann was born in Bulimba Queensland at the beginning of the Great Depression. He went on to serve in the Australian Military in Malaya and Vietnam. This book offers insight into sometimes hidden aspects of Australian military history and the conduct of the wars in Malaya and Vietnam.

Doctor Karl's Australia Dr Karl Kruszelnicki, 2015-01-23 Australia's best-loved scientist is back with a revised and - by popular demand - digital edition of Doctor Karl's Australia: Great Australian Facts & Firsts. Doctor Karl's Australia: Great Australian Facts & Firsts brings together hundreds of scintillating, amazing and frequently funny stories about Aussie ingenuity and inventiveness, such as what the periscope did for the rifles at Gallipoli, how the bionic ear was invented, why dung beetles got Meals on Wheels, who really came up with the pavlova, and how sharks - yes, sharks - started a tyre business! Not only that, Xoum's new eBook edition includes gorgeous all-new illustrations by celebrity scribbler Roy Chen and brand-new stories about the amazing exploits of the Australian submarine AE2 plus General Monash's inspired use of tanks in World War I. Doctor Karl's Australia: Great Australian Facts & Firsts is a must-read, all-ages celebration of 'Strayan science and technology, landscape and people, and the erratic path of invention and discovery in our magnificent wide brown land.

The Australian Army from Whitlam to Howard John Blaxland, 2014 The Australian Army from Whitlam to Howard is the first critical examination of Australia's post-Vietnam military operations, spanning the 35 years between the election of Gough Whitlam and the defeat of John Howard. John Blaxland explores the 'casualty cringe' felt by political leaders following the war and how this impacted subsequent operations. He contends that the Australian Army's rehabilitation involved common individual and collective training and reaffirmation of the Army's regimental and corps identities. He shows how the Army regained its confidence to play leading roles in East Timor, Bougainville and the Solomon Islands, and to contribute to combat operations further afield. At a time when the Australian Army's future strategic role is the subject of much debate, and as the 'Asian Century' gathers pace and commitment in Afghanistan draws to an end, this work is essential reading for anyone interested in understanding the modern context of Australia's military land force.

Preventing Fatal Incidents in School and Youth Group Camps and Excursions Andrew Brookes, 2018-05-07 This book approaches the prevention of fatal incidents in outdoor education and related fields through detailed study of past tragedies. Although safety in many fields is built on accumulated lessons from past incidents, tragedies on school or youth group camps and excursions are so infrequent and so widely scattered that knowledge from previous incidents can elude those who would benefit. Nevertheless, the emergence of unlearned lessons from the past weighs heavily when those affected by a tragedy judge whether an incident should have been prevented. This book provides a foundation for a detailed and comprehensive understanding of fatality prevention in outdoor education, and in youth camps and excursions. It compiles, examines, and analyses information on fatal incidents that have occurred over many decades, involving many kinds of groups and endeavours, from around the globe. No previous work has attempted this task.

To Feed A Nation Keith Farrer, 2005-02-24 To Feed a Nation takes the reader on a journey over the centuries, describing the slow and arduous development of Australian food technology and science from before European settlement to the latter half of the twentieth century. The first part of the book gives a fascinating glimpse into Aboriginal food and culture, outlines the primitive state of European food technology at the time of the First Fleet, and shows how the colonists tried to transfer to Australia the village technologies they knew in England. The second part describes how, for most of the nineteenth century, technology preceded science – the processing and storage of food relied on methods which, by trial and error, had been shown to work – and food science was slow to emerge. The final part of the book highlights the twentieth century watershed – how a growing understanding of the nature of food, the principles of nutrition, and the role of micro-organisms, was able to propel food technology to where it is today. The publication of To Feed a Nation has been sponsored by the Food Technology Association of Victoria.
