Paul Atkinson

Stations of the Lost Jacqueline P. Wiseman, 1979-11-15 When first published in 1970, Stations of the Lost won the C. Wright Mills Award for Best Book in the Area of Social Problems. The study considers the Skid Row alcoholic from two points of view, that of the alcoholic himself and that of the agents of social control who treat him. A major discovery of Wiseman's research was that Skid Row men spend only about one third of the year on Skid Row. The rest of the time is spent making the loop—going from Skid Row to city jail, to county jail, to the state mental hospital, to the missions, and back to Skid Row. While these facilities are designed to handle or rehabilitate Skid Row men, they are actually used by these men as a means of survival.

The Demolition of Skid Row Ronald J. Miller, 1982

Skid Row as a Way of Life Samuel E. Wallace, 1965 USA. Sociology - sociological aspects of the emergence of the urban area neighbourhood of homeless unskilled workers known as skid row. The role of Church mission workers and social workers in dispensing welfare and charity. (Poverty).

Making the Loop Jacqueline P. Wiseman, 1968

The Cause Within You Matthew Barnett, 2011 The son of a well-known megachurch pastor, discovered his great cause when he relinquished his dream of building a big, successful church like his father's and began listening for God's dream for his life. Barnett founded the Dream Center, a beacon of hope for homeless families, drug addicts, abused women and children, victims of human trafficking, teen runaways, and gang members.

Housing and Homelessness Sophie Watson, 2025-11-18 'Houses do not simply represent a form of shelter; in addition they embody the dominant ideology of a society and reflect the way in which that society is organised.' Originally published in 1986 and written by two leading authorities on the subject, this book tackles the problems of housing, homelessness, and women in the family, from a feminist perspective. It explores how housing helps to reproduce women's role within the family, both today and historically. It looks at the way British society in particular (and western society in general) defines and creates housing 'needs'. It discusses the way housing is provided and allocated to exclude specific forms of household, and describes the experiences of a particular group - single women - upon whom these processes have profound impact. Making effective use of interview material, the authors analyse the experience and needs of women without secure accommodation. Their study will be a useful text on social policy and welfare courses, and - with its strong political implications - will also be of great interest to community workers and to local authority housing departments.

Criminal Law Cynthia Lee,Angela P. Harris,2009 This text, the only criminal law casebook authored by two progressive female law professors of color, provides the reader with both critical race and critical feminist theory perspectives on criminal law. Promises to Keep Greg Dimitriadis,Dennis Carlson,2003-05 For all of its promise, public education in the twentieth century never lived up to its democratic potential. This book takes a serious look at the slow erosion of the fuller democratic meaning of a public education and a public life.

For Ethnography Paul Atkinson,2014-12-01 This text is something of a masterclass in its own right. Few are as well placed to comment on the debates surrounding ethnography - debates which the author had been instrumental in shaping - and to offer a clear and authoritative call-to-arms to future, aspirant ethnographers. It is a passionate but realistic manifesto for those wishing to undertake the craft of ethnography and to do it well. All who read it will benefit. - Sam Hillyard, Durham University This major book from one of the world's foremost authorities recaptures the classic inspirations of ethnographic fieldwork in sociology and anthropology, reflecting on decades of methodological development and empirical research. It is part manifesto, part guidance on the appropriate focus of the ethnographic gaze. Throughout Atkinson insists that ethnographic research must be faithful to the intrinsic and complex organization of everyday life. An attempt to rescue ethnography from contemporary 'qualitative' research, the book is a corrective to the corrosive effects of postmodernism on the analysis of social organization and social action. Atkinson affirms the value of fieldwork, while incorporating contemporary perspectives on social analysis. Paul Atkinson is Distinguished Research Professor of Sociology at Cardiff University, where he is also Associate Director of the ESRC Centre for Economic and Social Aspects of Genomics.

The Ecology of Aggression Arnold P. Goldstein, 2012-12-06 Adopting a unique situation-oriented perspective, this book studies the occurrence and control of aggression on the micro-, meso-, and macro-levels of physical and social ecologies. The wide ranging viewpoint clarifies important aspects of all forms of aggression to provide psychologists, sociologists, and criminologists with a powerful aid for treatment and intervention techniques.

Interpreting the City Truman Asa Hartshorn, 1992-04-16 The Second Edition has been rewritten to provide additional coverage of topics such as urban development and third world cities as well as social issues including homelessness, jobs/housing mismatch and transportation disadvantages. It has also been updated with 1990 Census data.
