Stock Exchanges and Marketeer High Ground Matthias Kiefer, PhD, 2023-03-13  Do Inquire About a 3-hour Audio Lecture on Phoenician Stock Exchanges: MatthiasKiefer1980@Hotmail.com   eBook File to be Retired. New Version in 2026  * What prospective business students need to understand, for now: There is no: LARGE VOLUME TRADE. Nowhere. Not in the U.S.. Not in the UK. No: New York HARBOUR. No: GLOBAL CORPORATIONS. No: LARGE TRANSACTIONS. You're in for idiotic 9-5 work weeks and tiny batches. Three sweaters a day. Everywhere. That's what business classes prepare you for, as of 2025. Hell. Ukraine. Mini volume trade ... certain disease. * STOCK EXCHANGES AND MARKETEEER HIGH GROUND Ancient Phoenicians didn't call the police over unpaid bills. Carthage's Stock Exchange in North Africa ran the oldest auctions: When the highest bidder failed to pay, the second-highest bid won the day. AUCTIONS Picture yourself sailing back to Carthage from the edges of the known world. You have no delivery schedules to meet, no buyer ordered your ship load of lapis lazuli, and even if any merchant did, no one would enforce that claim. Instead, you are worried about getting paid, at all. Carthage would encourage your unscheduled delivery by means of its auctions. On a small island at the centre of their circular harbour, potential buyers would compete over your lapis lazuli. They cast bids. LEGACY Self-enforcing arrangements (no police) such as auctions not only shape modern stock exchanges, but also modern corporations, their law-insulated boards of directors, stock-based compensation of top management, central bank-independent investment banks, and new stock market listings in private equity and venture capital. MARKET BASED SYSTEMS In fact, modern economies are categorised into two systems based on their policing of trade: While in Germany, banks referee trade, US trading takes place mainly at its stock exchanges. While German companies borrow, US counterparts issue shares. Even America's mortgages are traded on its stock exchanges! Germany's system is therefore dubbed 'bank-based' and North America's 'market-based.' Buy my eBook because: THE FIRST STOCK EXCHANGE IN HISTORY We can trace the market-based system all the way back to ancient Carthage. While neighbour Rome exclusively used public institutions to referee (and ultimately strangle) all trade, Carthage might have run the first experiment in unpoliced trade: An exchange for any type of cargo. Carthage Intro Video: <https://youtu.be/cyPDOJx1bE?si=L1KJnZAZPthqFNO2> Carthage Stock Exchange: <https://youtu.be/e6H4dzv2JUc?si=sBqrvs2tjnL8vrFF> Roman Carthage: https://youtu.be/Byfu_rJgj3A?si=MYvmCmygj2dbBwkS Watch out, there are two different types of company managers! This is not how a text book on Corporate Governance should begin. Modern corporations become independent from the influence of their shareholders. Dissatisfied shareholders sell rather than intervene. Stock exchanges allow disgruntled owners to tender their stock. On them, companies as wholes sell at premiums. The first known stock exchanges formed in Carthage (Tunisia), Sardinia and Sicily as early as in 600 BC. Phoenician seafarers' wealth resulted from the markets that spread around the circular harbours. While ancient Roman neighbours benefitted from the Phoenician trade partners, their law diverged. In modern times, we witness an odd amalgamation of governance in Germany: Germany's corporations have two legally separate governance boards. On the one hand, the functionality resulted from free markets: The most powerful directors must be separate to, and independent from, a company's top management. Ancient Roman law disciplines German boards into obedience: The distinct types of leaders legally must divorce. Despite a larger population, Germany's stock exchange today is less than half the volume of Britain's. German banks not only fund their corporations. While western economies circle around stock exchanges, Germany's small companies are subsidised and governed by the state banks. During recessions, Germany's savers naturally insist on interest income, and force the country into austerity. Women Archaeologists under Communism, 1917-1989 Florin Curta, Iurie Stamati, 2021-11-27 This book explores the uncharted territory of the history of archaeology under Communism through the biographies of five women archaeologists from the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, and Poland. They were working in medieval archaeology, with a specific focus on the (early) Slavs. The choice of specialists in medieval archaeology has much to do with the fact that in the five East European countries considered in this book, medieval archaeology began to develop into a serious discipline less than a century ago. The main catalyst for the sudden rise of medieval archaeology was a dramatic shift in emphasis from traditional political and constitutional to social and economic history. In five countries, the rise of medieval archaeology thus coincides in time, and was ultimately caused by the imposition of Communist regimes. The five women were therefore true pioneers in their field, and respective countries.
