The Italian Language in the Digital Age Georg Rehm, Hans Uszkoreit, 2012-07-25 This white paper is part of a series that promotes knowledge about language technology and its potential. It addresses educators, journalists, politicians, language communities and others. The availability and use of language technology in Europe varies between languages. Consequently, the actions that are required to further support research and development of language technologies also differ for each language. The required actions depend on many factors, such as the complexity of a given language and the size of its community. META-NET, a Network of Excellence funded by the European Commission, has conducted an analysis of current language resources and technologies. This analysis focused on the 23 official European languages as well as other important national and regional languages in Europe. The results of this analysis suggest that there are many significant research gaps for each language. A more detailed expert analysis and assessment of the current situation will help maximise the impact of additional research and minimize any risks. META-NET consists of 54 research centres from 33 countries that are working with stakeholders from commercial businesses, government agencies, industry, research organisations, software companies, technology providers and European universities. Together, they are creating a common technology vision while developing a strategic research agenda that shows how language technology applications can address any research gaps by 2020.

Confini, identità, appartenenze Angela Fabris, Ilvano Caliaro, 2020-12-16 The studies gathered in this volume analyze, in authors from Italy, Austria, Slovenia, Croatia, and neighboring territories, the complex relation between identity and borders, namely those between languages and cultures, that can cut through one single territory. We are looking at identities made of different layers and elements, blurred and oppressed, and constantly forced to redefine themselves, in dialog with one another.

Le descrizioni universali ... del mondo ... Lucas de Linda, 1660

Disertare Ariana Harwicz, Mikaël Gómez Guthart, 2023-05-24 Disertare: una parola che evoca un mondo. Disertare come atto fondativo della letteratura argentina, sin dalla tradizione gauchesca. Latitanza linguistica, confini fluidi, allontanamento volontario da schemi culturali monolitici ed ereditati. Un titolo che è una paronomasia efficace perché riassume i punti focali del libro: disertare-dissertare, mettendo in relazione transitiva (e conflittiva) l'atto del fuggire e del parlare. In questo libro lo spostamento si trasferisce dallo spazio geografico alla lingua: la diserzione diventa metafora della scrittura extraterritoriale e globalizzata. Harwicz e Gómez Guthart riflettono a due voci sui limiti della negoziazione tra testo di partenza e lingua di arrivo così come sull'influenza del bilinguismo e delle migrazioni nella formazione dell'idioletto di uno scrittore. In questo modo, disertare diventa un'apologia della clandestinità virtuosa del linguaggio, una difesa dello stare fuori dalla legge nel senso di mettere in pratica una scrittura eccentrica, sconvolgente, ribelle nei confronti del canone e delle aspettative dell'orizzonte d'attesa.
