Finn's Thermal Physics Andrew Rex, C.B.P. Finn, 2017-03-27 This fully updated and expanded new edition continues to provide the most readable, concise, and easy-to-follow introduction to thermal physics. While maintaining the style of the original work, the book now covers statistical mechanics and incorporates worked examples systematically throughout the text. It also includes more problems and essential updates, such as discussions on superconductivity, magnetism, Bose-Einstein condensation, and climate change. Anyone needing to acquire an intuitive understanding of thermodynamics from first principles will find this third edition indispensable. Andrew Rex is professor of physics at the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Washington. He is author of several textbooks and the popular science book, Commonly Asked Questions in Physics.

Introduction to Chemistry Thomas R. Dickson, 1991 Based on feedback from students and professors alike, this introductory textbook has been revised to offer material in a different sequence, and expanded end-of-chapter questions. A major theme of the text is the introduction, explanation and illustration of the problem-solving methods of beginning chemistry. Approaches to solutions chemical problems, and the unit-equation, factor-label or dimensional-analysis methods are explained in detail with numerous examples. Relevant analogies and special topics continue to reinforce, introduce and illustrate chemical concepts.

Fennema's Food Chemistry Srinivasan Damodaran, Kirk L. Parkin, Owen R. Fennema, 2007-09-18 This latest edition of the most internationally respected reference in food chemistry for more than 30 years, Fennema's Food Chemistry once again meets and surpasses the standards of quality, comprehensive information set by its predecessors. This edition introduces new editors and contributors, who are recognized experts in their fields. All chapters reflect recent scientific advances and, where appropriate, have expanded and evolved their focus to provide readers with the current state-of-the-science of chemistry for the food industry. The fourth edition presents an entirely new chapter, Impact of Biotechnology on Food Supply and Quality, which examines the latest research in biotechnology and molecular interactions. Two former chapters receive extensive attention in the new edition including Physical and Chemical Interactions of Components in Food Systems (formerly "Summary: Integrative Concepts") and Bioactive Substances: Nutraceuticals and Toxicants (formerly “Toxic Substances”), which highlights bioactive agents and their role in human health and represents the feverish study of the connection between food and health undertaken over the last decade. It discusses bioactive substances from both a regulatory and health standpoint. Retaining the straightforward organization and detailed, accessible style of the original, this edition begins with an examination of major food components such as water, carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, and enzymes. The second section looks at minor food components including vitamins and minerals, colorants, flavor, and additives. The final section considers food systems by reviewing basic considerations as well as specific information on the characteristics of milk and the postmortem physiology of edible muscle and postharvest physiology of plant tissues. Useful appendices provide keys to the international system of units, conversion factors, log P values calculation, and the Greek alphabet.

Energy Use in Agricultural Productivity Hifzur Rehman,2003 Discusses The Concept Of Energy Use In Agriculture, Examines The Measurements Of Energy Efficiency And Methods Of Measurements Of Agricultural Productivity And Makes A Comparison Of The Use Of Energy In The Developed And Developing Countries. Five Chapters And 11 Appendices.

Diversified Agri-food Production Systems for Nutritional Security Anup Das,Subhash Babu,Jayanta Layek,Raghavendra Singh,Saurav Saha,2024-01-16 Nutritional security and ecosystem sustainability are the biggest challenges of the 21st century. Globally ~ 2.3 billion people suffer from malnutrition. According to estimates by the World Bank, malnutrition globally costs ~ $ 3.5 trillion per year. On the other hand, the production and availability of staple food is the major emphasis for conventional farming in developing and underdeveloped countries for assured food security. These staple foods are high in carbohydrates and energy availability but low in nutritional value, such as concerning micronutrient, phytochemical, and vitamin contents. Apart from adequate food, there should be consistent access, availability, and affordability of foods and beverages that are nutrient-dense, promote well-being, and minimize diseases. From the experience of the recent COVID-19 crisis, the importance of adequate dietary habits has been emphasized globally since food nutrients are considered inherent sources of immunomodulation.

Neurobiology of Food and Fluid Intake Edward M. Stricker,Stephen Woods,2006-05-04 Like previous handbooks, the present volume is an authoritative and up-to-date compendium of information and perspective on the neurobiology of ingestive behaviors. It is intended to be stimulating and informative to the practitioner, whether neophyte or senior scholar. It is also intended to be accessible to others who do not investigate the biological bases of food and fluid ingestion, who may teach aspects of this material or simply wonder about the current state of the field. To all readers, we present this handbook as a progress report, recognizing that the present state of the field is much farther along than it was the last time a handbook was published, but mindful of the likelihood that it is not as far along as it will be when the next handbook is prepared. This field has witnessed a spectacular accretion of scientific information since the first handbook was published in 1967. During the generation of science between then and the publication of the second handbook in 1990, numerous scientific reports have substantially changed the perspective and informational base of the field.
