□□□, Mei-Yung Leung

Value Management of Construction Projects John Kelly, Steven Male, Drummond Graham, 2014-11-17 VALUE MANAGEMENT OF CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS Second Edition Value Management is a philosophy, set of principles and structured management methodology for improving organisational decision-making and value-for-money. It is well-established in the international construction industry and has been endorsed as good practice in a range of UK government sponsored reports. The authors have addressed the practical opportunities and difficulties of Value Management by synthesising background, international developments, and benchmarking with their own extensive consultancy and action research experience in Value Management to provide a comprehensive package of theory and practice. Covering methods and practices, frameworks of value and the future of value management, this thoroughly updated second edition extends the integrated value philosophy, methodology and tool kit to describe the application of Value Management to service delivery, asset management and programmes, in addition to projects, products and processes. In particular, the new edition responds to: A range of recent UK industry and government publications; and most notably BS EN 16271:2012 - Value management: Functional expression of the need and functional performance specification; the imminent update of BS EN 12973:2000 Value Management; BS EN 1325 Value Management - Vocabulary, Terms and Definitions; the changes to Value for Europe governing the training and certification of Value Management in European Union countries; the UK Government's Management of Value (MoV) initiative, and other leading reports, international guidance and relevant standards. Changes in Value Management practice, particularly in programmes and projects. Developments in the theory of value, principally value for money measures, whole life value option appraisal, and benefits realisation. Initiatives in asset management covering the management of physical infrastructure, for example the suite of three standards under the generic title of BS ISO 55000: 2014 Asset Management, and its predecessor BSI PAS55 2008 Asset Management: Specification for the Optimized Management of Physical Assets. It contains a dedicated chapter of exemplar case studies which demonstrate the new areas of theory and practice, and an extensive set of tools and techniques of use in Value Management practice. Public and private construction clients and construction professionals such as cost consultants, quantity surveyors, architects, asset managers, engineers, and project managers will all find Value Management of Construction Projects essential reading. It will also be of interest to researchers and students on construction related courses - particularly those at final year undergraduate and at Masters level.

Cost and Value Management in Projects Ray R. Venkataraman, Jeffrey K. Pinto, 2023-03-28 Cost and Value Management in Projects Project manager's guide to achieving cost efficiency and value optimization—thoroughly updated with new cases, examples, and problem sets The newly revised and updated Second Edition of Cost and Value Management in Projects provides project managers with a thorough understanding of the various dimensions of cost and value in projects, along with the factors that impact them and the managerial approaches for achieving cost efficiency and value optimization. The Second Edition includes updates to key topic areas such as project benefits realization, updated end-of-chapter exercises such as discussion questions and problem sets, updated case studies, and new spreadsheet analytic techniques and examples. Value Management Incentive Programme Nigel A. Standing, 2001 Value management incentive programmes and clauses are a powerful mechanism for allowing continuity of contractors' input throughout a project delivery. The fact that incentive programmes have been overlooked in the reports and publications portraying alliancing and partnering as the way forward, means that this effective tool has been largely lost to the UK construction industry. The book considers value incentive programmes in depth, highlighting their application and benefits to client and contractor. It provides an insight into contractor-led value engineering and its effective use in different procurement forms.

Strategic Lean Thinking and Value Management for Gravel Roads in Zambia Richard Kasongo, 2015-11-25 Doctoral Thesis / Dissertation from the year 2015 in the subject Engineering - General, , course: Civil Engineering Management (Construction Project Management), language: English, abstract: This research topic is entitled 'Strategic Lean Thinking and Value Management for Gravel Roads'. The study captured 82 respondents as research sample to a case study of Output Performance - Based Contracts (OPRCs) for the Construction and Maintenance of Gravel Roads in Zambia. Purposive sampling was used as most research participants were drawn from second generation OPRCs that were active between 2009 and 2014. The study was aimed at devising new Construction and Maintenance Contract methods for gravel roads that are based on "Lean Thinking and Value Management" philosophies in Zambia. The established epistemological background to the study is that most of the Zambian road network is of gravel or earth standards and is therefore, imperative that they are well maintained to attain desired service levels to properly serve the intended beneficiaries (the road users). The Road Development Agency Annual Report of 2009 indicated that 33,000 Km of the total 40,671 Km core road network, is classified as gravel roads (unpaved) , which are at the moment mostly in a deteriorated state. The study revealed that currently in Zambia, Gravel Road Construction projects are commonly being realised through the use of traditional Contracts such as admeasured; by the use of Bills of Quantities (BOQs), the Lump sum and Cost plus, etc. These are mainly short term form of Contracts which to some extent, lack some components of sustainable maintenance regimes, thereby rendering the Government and other Promoters efforts futile as gravel roads sooner or later deteriorate just after the first rain season upon their construction. This was theoretical perspective which served as driver to the "Research problem". The study noted that current forms of Contracts did not inspire, aspire and spur the spirit of ownership as the local people were left out in the planning and design stages of gravel road projects. Despite all the attempts made by Government, through the RDA and other implementing Agencies, the Road Construction Industry in general, has failed to get the best value for money through the use of these conventional types of Contracts. One of the reasons for this failure according to Womack and Jones (2003), 'is that it is hard to define and realise value, this is partly because most Producers [Road Contractors] want to make what they are already making and partly because Customers only know some variant of what they are already getting'.

Earned Value Management in Construction Project Alzwainy Faiq M Sarhan, Mohammed Ibrahim a, Mohsen Duha S, 2015-07-23 There are many potential measures of performance for evaluating the success of a construction project. All address performance in three key areas: scope, schedule and budget. Earned Value Management addresses many project management areas including project organizing, planning, scheduling and budgeting, accounting, analyzing, reporting and controlling. This book explained the introduce a new and alternative approach of using a neural network for earned value management of the infrastructure project, is the best indicator of future performance by using follow-up method, and therefore, it is possible to forecast cost or schedule overruns at quite an early stage in a construction project. The objective of this book is to demonstrate that Earned Value Management is an effective management technique that integrates technical performance requirements, resource planning, with schedules and cost. The major objectives of applying earned value are to encourage the project managers and contractors to use effective technical, cost and schedule management control systems.

Value Management in Design and Construction John Kelly, Steven Male, 1993 Value management (VM), first developed in the USA, is now a growing service in the UK construction industry as well as developing rapidly on mainland Europe. The quantity surveying profession has recently targeted it as one of its key services for development over the next decade.

Modern Construction Management Frank Harris, Ronald McCaffer, Francis Edum-Fotwe, 2006-09-07 This well established undergraduate textbook has been thoroughly revised and updated to cover the latest practices in PFI/PPP, risk management, supply networks, sustainability, lean construction, KPIs, and value management. Modern Construction Management now addresses in particular the contractor's role - often neglected in other textbooks - and throughout it emphasises essential skills and core topics for career development and progression in construction. Two substantial chapters are devoted to self-learning with problems, worked examples and tutorial exercises and the book's comprehensive, clear and pragmatic approach ensures it retains its position as the core textbook for students of construction management, civil engineering and quantity surveying. The material in the book is supported with a comprehensive list of questions and solutions that can be employed as a learning aid. These can be found at <http://www.blackwellpublishing.com/harris/>
