Alfonso Moure ha sido una de las figuras más relevantes de la arqueología española de los últimos cincuenta años. Sus trabajos de campo acerca del Paleolítico, en particular el arte rupestre y mobiliar, han sido fundamentales en la modernización de la investigación arqueológica española. No menos destacada ha sido su labor como docente y como gestor y divulgador de patrimonio, aspectos a los que dedicó gran parte de sus esfuerzos desde sus cátedras de Valladolid y Cantabria, o desde los diversos puestos directivos que ocupó en la Universidad o en organismos como el Museo Arqueológico Nacional. En este volumen se reúne un conjunto de investigaciones recientes acerca de los temas que trató a lo largo de su intensa y fructífera carrera, ofrecidos por un selecto grupo de colegas -muchos de ellos colaboradores o discípulos suyos- que, de esta manera, quieren rendir homenaje a este singular prehistoriador. Buena parte de ellos se refieren al arte rupestre y mobiliar del Paleolítico, acerca del cual se incluyen capítulos sobre yacimientos u objetos concretos y su contexto (el de Roberto Ontañón y colaboradores sobre La Brazada, el de Valentín Villaverde, Ana Cantó y Miriam Cabrelles sobre una placa de El Parpalló, el de Pilar Utrilla, Carlos Mazo, Rafael Domingo y Manuel Bea sobre el bloque 1 de Abauntz, y el de Rodrigo de Balbín y Javier Alcolea sobre un sitio que no podía faltar en este libro, Tito Bustillo), pero también sobre cuestiones generales, como la reflexión de Gonzalo Ruiz Zapatero sobre las interpretaciones y la divulgación del arte paleolítico, la de Eduardo Palacio sobre el papel de la antropología en la construcción de las hipótesis sobre su significado, y la de Denis Vialou sobre la complejidad de las interpretaciones a la luz de los cambios de perspectiva de los últimos años. Hay también contribuciones acerca del Paleolítico de diversas regiones (la síntesis sobre el de Galicia de Mikel Díaz y Ramón Fábregas, y la de Álvaro Arrizabalaga y colaboradores sobre el Gravetiense del País Vasco) de yacimientos concretos (la de Manuel Santonja y colaboradores sobre el depósito achelense de El Sotillo; la de Lawrence Guy Straus y Manuel R. González Morales sobre el Magdaleniense inferior de El Mirón), así como aportaciones desde el punto de vista arqueozoológico (Esteban Álvarez, Teresa Aparicio y Marián Cueto sobre los niveles musterienses de Las Grajas) o tafonómico (Edgard Camarós sobre el esplacnocráneo atribuido al Magdaleniense de El Pendo). No faltan capítulos sobre el Mesolítico (el de Diego Herrero, Natividad Fuertes, Ana Neira, Antonio Tarriño y Federico Bernaldo de Quiros sobre la gestión de las industrias líticas en la vertiente leonesa de la cordillera Cantábrica) o sobre diversos asuntos de la Prehistoria reciente (Rodrigo Villalobos, Germán Delibes, Miguel Moreno, Javier Basconcillos y Alberto Fraile acerca de los menhires de las provincias de Burgos y Palencia; Ángel Armendariz e Ignacio Montero sobre el hacha de bronce de Las Praízas; Ernesto García-Soto y Susana Ferrero sobre la fortificación celtibérica de Castilviejo). Finaliza la obra con un trabajo acerca de un tema que a Alfonso Maure le preocupaba particularmente, la arqueología preventiva, al que dedica un capítulo María Ángeles Querol. Sirva este volumen de recuerdo y homenaje a un gran arqueólogo, pero sobre todo un gran amigo, compañero y maestro de los que en él participamos.

Abstract

Alfonso Moure has been one of the most outstanding figures of the Spanish Archaeology of the last fifty years. His field work projects on the Palaeolithic, particularly on rock and portable art, constitute a milestone in the modernization of the Archaeological research in Spain. Not less important has been his contribution as a professor, and in the management and outreach of Archaeological heritage, to which he devoted a large part of his efforts from his chairs at the Universities of Valladolid and Cantabria, or from the diverse management positions that he occupied at the University or at institutions such as the Spanish National Archaeological Museum. This volume brings together papers on the topics that he addressed along his intense and fruitful career. They have been offered by a selected group of colleagues - many of them his collaborators or students- who, this way, would like to pay tribute to this outstanding prehistorian. Many of them deal with the Palaeolithic rock and portable art, about which chapters are included on particular sites or items and their context (those by Robert Otañón and collaborators on La Brazada, by Valentín Villaverde, Ana Cantó and Miriam Cabrelles on a plaquette from El Parpalló, by Pilar Utrilla, Carlos Mazo, Rafael Domingo and Manuel Bea on the block 1 from Abauntz, and by Rodrigo de Balbín and Javier Alcolea on Tito Bustillo), but also on general issues, such as Gonzalo Ruiz Zapatero's reflections on the interpretations and the outreach of Palaeolithic art, Eduardo Palacio's on the role of Social Anthropology in the building of hypothesis on its meaning, and Denis Vialou's on the complexity of interpretations after the perspective changes of the last years. There are also contributions on the Palaeolithic of several regions (Mikel Díaz and Ramón Fábregas' synthesis on Galicia, and Álvaro Arrizabalaga's and colleagues on the Gravettian of the Basque Country) or of particular sites (Manuel Santonja and colleague on the Acheulean deposit of El Sotillo, and Lawrence Guy Straus and Manuel R. González Morales on the Lower Magdalenian of El Mirón), as well of chapters from an Archaeozoological (Esteban Álvarez, Teresa Aparicio and Marián Cueto on the Mousterian layers of Las Grajas) or Taphonomic (Edgard Camarós on the splachnocranum attributed to the Magdalenian of El Pendo) perspectives. There are also chapters on the Mesolithic (Diego Herrero, Natividad Fuertes, Ana Neira, Antonio Tarriño and Federico Bernaldo de Quirós on the management of lithics in the Leon side of the Cantabrian range), and on diverse questions of late Prehistory (Rodrigo Villalobos, Germán Delibes, Miguel Moreno, Javier Basconcillos and Alberto Fraile on the menhirs in the provinces of Burgos and Palencia; Ángel Armendariz and Ignacio Montero on the bronze axe of Las Praízas; Ernesto García-Soto and Susana Ferrero on the Celtiberian hillfort Castilviejo). The book ends with a contribution on a topic on which Alfonso Moure was particularly concerned: preventive Archaeology, to which María Ángeles Querol devotes a chapter. Let this volume be a reminder and a tribute to a great archaeologist, but also to a great friend, colleague and master of those who have participated in it.

Pure and Programme Music in the Romanticism Magda Polo Pujadas, 2019-10-04 One of the most difficult challenges a music theoretician faces, be it historically, philosophically or in other aspects, is that of correctly and precisely framing the meaning that music has in a specific moment: deducing the "why" and revealing the secret hidden within. The book Pure and Programme Music in the Romanticism, a rigorous and indispensable study to understand music in the period in which music as an expression of feelings, begins to reach the threshold of the sublime —primarily focusing attention on what pure and programme music represent. Both types of music are instrumental, but the difference between them is that the first one, pure music, exists on its own, and for its own sake, establishing an iron-clad alliance with the form. Programme music is inspired by other forms of artistic expression, especially literature, and is indelibly linked with the content. However, halfway between these two types of music, a new one is born: absolute music. This music is the result from the dialectic established between the pure and programme, exactly in the middle of two opposing philosophies, that of Idealism and that of Materialism. All of this context described in this book is what defines the essence of Romantic music but also what allows us to understand the music of the twentieth century and that of today, because the controversy between pure music and programme music has represented, in the history of western musical thought, the turning point that led to the creation of the Gesamtkunstwerk (Total Work of Art) and the relationship between music and film, for example, as well as other artistic expressions.

Painted Caves Andrew J. Lawson,2012-05-24 Written from an archaeological perspective, Painted Caves is a beautifully illustrated introduction to the oldest art of Western Europe: the very ancient paintings found in caves. Lawson offers an up to date overview of the geographical distribution of the sites and their significance within the varied network of Palaeolithic art.

Music & Ritual Mark Howell,Raquel Jimenez,Rupert Till,Arnd Adje Both,2013-12-31 The ICTM Study Group on Music Archaeology was founded in the early 1980s by Ellen Hickmann, John Blacking, Mantle Hood and Cajsa S. Lund. This is the first volume of the new anthology series published by the study group, turning to the topic of music and religion in past cultures. Each volume of the series is composed of concise case studies, bringing together the world's foremost researchers on a particular subject, reflecting the wide scope of music-archaeological research world-wide. The series draws in perspectives from a range of different disciplines, including newly emerging fields such as archaeoacoustics, but particularly encouraging both music-archaeological and ethnomusicological perspectives.

Deep-Time Images in the Age of Globalization Oscar Moro Abadía,Margaret W. Conkey,Josephine McDonald,2024-05-13 This open access volume explores the impact of globalization on the contemporary study of deep-time art. The volume explores how early rock art research's Eurocentric biases have shifted with broadened global horizons to facilitate new conversations and discourses in new post-colonial realities. The book uses seven main themes to explore theoretical, methodological, ethical, and practical developments that are orienting the study of Pleistocene and Holocene arts in the age of globalization. Compiling studies as diverse as genetics, visualization, with the proliferation of increasingly sophisticated archaeological techniques, means that vast quantities of materials and techniques are now incorporated into the analysis of the world's visual cultures. Deep-Time Images in the Age of Globalization aims to promote critical reflection on the multitude of positive - and negative - impacts that globalization has wrought in rock art research. The volume brings new theoretical frameworks as well as engagement with indigenous knowledge and perspectives from art history. It highlights technical, methodological and interpretive developments, and showcases rock art characteristics from previously unknown (in the global north) geographic areas. This book provides comparative approaches on rock art globally and scrutinises the impacts of globalization on research, preservation, and management of deep-time art. This book will appeal to archaeologists, social scientists and art historians working in the field as well as lovers of rock art.

La revolución de las provincias Terán Fuentes, Mariana, Chust Calero, Manuel, 2024-04-01 El diputado novohispano Miguel Ramos Arizpe fue quien diseñó la propuesta para la creación de las diputaciones provinciales en el marco de la Constitución de 1812. Tema controversial porque podría derivarse, tras su implementación, en estructuras territoriales y administrativas tendientes al federalismo. Ya lo habían advertido algunos representantes peninsulares en la asamblea legislativa. Las Cortes en Cádiz aprobaron su creación ciñéndose al propósito central: el fomento de sus provincias y suprimiendo cualquier atisbo de poder representativo que pudiera implicar una doble soberanía: la provincial y la nacional. Triunfó, frente a las propuestas descentralizadoras de los representantes americanos, la opción centralista de los liberales peninsulares. De esta forma, en el primer periodo de vigencia de la Constitución de 1812 se instalaron las primeras diputaciones provinciales en el mundo hispano. Durante el Trienio Liberal, se multiplicaron y con ello, se propició una revolución al transgredir las atribuciones que la Constitución les permitía. Se volvieron autónomas, soberanas, algunas se reconocieron en estado de naturaleza para definir su forma de gobierno y convertirse en instituciones legislativas. La revolución de las provincias en el mundo hispano es la reunión de distintas aproximaciones realizadas por especialistas de México, España, Centroamérica, Ecuador y Cuba. El marco jurídico gaditano se potenció para una realidad territorial diferenciada, con guerras, con independencias y con el establecimiento de repúblicas. Las diputaciones provinciales tuvieron un papel protagónico en esta revolución que derivó en el desmembramiento de la nación española y en la formación de las nuevas naciones en América. También así mismo, en un diferente caminar dentro del nacimiento de los estados naciones, bien hacia el federalismo, bien hacia el centralismo.
