Michael Brown

FR/EN: guillemets (« ») / quotation marks (" ") - usage & punctuation Oct 16, 2015 · The main usage of quotation marks is the same in both languages: quoting or emphasizing words or phrases. The typography rules are however a bit different. When using French guillemets, you should add an (ideally thin) non-breaking space on either side of the quoted text (e.g., « Bonjour ! »), whereas no spaces are used with English quotation marks (e.g., "Hello!"). In French, a ... What is the proper abbreviation for not applicable? Apr 25, 2011 · The problem here is that "Wiki" items are open source where anyone can enter whatever they want including their opinion. There is quite a bit of good and accurate information to be found there, as well as a bunch of inaccurate information. In my daughter high school they are not allowed to use anything 'Wiki' as a valid source for research information because most things are not validated. "Cure date" vs "expiration date" | WordReference Forums Mar 25, 2008 · Dear all, I work in the aeronautic field, and lately I start dealing with official "certificates" that are attached to aeronautic parts in order to attest their conformity. These documents sometimes contain a "cure date", here in France I heard it translated as an "expiration date", but I have... How different vs How is it different - WordReference Forums May 17, 2016 · Greetings, Is there a difference between these two sentences? Are they both correct? 1. How different is the French in Quebec to the French spoken in... Cafe vs. Café - WordReference Forums Oct 23, 2007 · At least in NA they are quite different. A cafeteria is marked by self-service. You take your tray along the line and take or are given food and drink. It would not be entirely illogical to say "a cafeteria style cafe/coffee shop" (though how that would differ from just a cafeteria isn't clear). A café derives from French, café, coffee shop. differing vs different - WordReference Forums May 22, 2008 · "There have been widely differing versions in the newspapers about the prison siege." Why not use "different" here? Both are right? If right, same meaning? If same which is common and better in native English? FR: différent - place de l'adjectif | WordReference Forums Aug 31, 2007 · Hi, I understand that the adjective 'différent' can be used before and after the noun in French. Can somebody explain to me what the difference in meaning is? Thanks Moderator note: Multiple threads have been merged to create this one. How it is different or How is it different? - WordReference Forums Apr 28, 2012 · Which one of the following is correct in the following context? Why Islamabad and How it is different? Why Islamabad and How is it different? P.S. Islamabad is the capital city of Pakistan. Thanks! different with / different from - WordReference Forums Jun 30, 2011 · It may be different (with/from) each family, but there are similarities. How would you describe the difference between "different with" and "different from" in the given sentence? Pronunciation of "o", "ó" and "ô" | WordReference Forums Mar 28, 2010 · I know, for example, that avó and avô mean different things and are pronounced differently, but the spelling clearly marks this distinction in these words, while in the words from your examples, there's nothing obvious at first glance and I think there're no other words to confuse p*rt@ (s) and *vo (s) with due to a different pronunciation of o.
