The Cambridge History of Spanish Literature David T. Gies, 2004 Publisher Description

Death in Fifteenth Century Castile Laura Vivanco, 2004 Differences in attitudes to death and dying in two distinct social classes, the ecclesiastics and the nobility. The theory of the three estates made clear distinctions between the functions of the two estates which comprised the elite of medieval society: the oradores (ecclesiastics) and the defensores (warriors or nobility). They had different lifestyles, clothing and ways of thinking about life. With regard to death, the responses dictated by Christian theology conflicted with the demands of the defensor ideology, based on the defence of individual honour, the pursuit of fama and the display of earthly power. This book charts the progress of the dying from their preparations for death, through their 'good' or 'bad' deaths, to their burials and otherworldly fates and also analyses the responses of the bereaved. Through the use of pre-fifteenth-century texts it is possible to demonstrate that the conflict between the orador and defensor ideologies did not begin in the fifteenth century, but rather had a much older origin, and it is suggested that the conflict continued after 1500. Textual sources include the Siete partidas, wills, chronicles, religious works such as the Arte de bien morir and literary works such as Cárcel de Amor and Celestina.

History of Spanish Literature George Ticknor, 1863

Forging Communities Montserrat Piera, 2018-09-15 Forging Communities explores the importance of the cultivation, provision, trade, and exchange of foods and beverages to mankind's technological advancement, violent conquest, and maritime exploration. The thirteen essays here show how the sharing of food and drink forged social, religious, and community bonds, and how ceremonial feasts as well as domestic daily meals strengthened ties and solidified ethnoreligious identity through the sharing of food customs. The very act of eating and the pleasure derived from it are metaphorically linked to two other sublime activities of the human experience: sexuality and the search for the divine. This interdisciplinary study of food in medieval and early modern communities connects threads of history conventionally examined separately or in isolation. The intersection of foodstuffs with politics, religion, economics, and culture enhances our understanding of historical developments and cultural continuities through the centuries, giving insight that today, as much as in the past, we are what we eat and what we eat is never devoid of meaning.

Historia de la poesía medieval castellana I Fernando Gómez Redondo,2020-10-15 Esta Historia aspira a fijar una nueva visión de la poesía medieval castellana, centrada básicamente en el desarrollo de sus materias principales, tal y como son requeridas por los contextos de recepción a los que las obras se dirigen, asentada en un continuo examen de los textos y atendida a la evolución de los tres sistemas métricos medievales (isométrico, isosilábico e isorrítmico). Cada materia requiere un proceso de versificación adecuado y la evolución de las leyes prosódicas refleja los cambios que sufren los grupos receptores.
