El jardín en la arquitectura del siglo XX Darío Álvarez Álvarez, Miguel Angel Aníbarro, Jorge Sainz, 2007 Este libro plantea una visión completa del jardín del siglo XX y sugiere los caminos de relación entre la arquitectura y el jardín en el futuro, a partir de la experiencia de la cultura moderna. Esta visión general incluye análisis compositivos y espaciales de los jardines y de su relación con la arquitectura. De esta manera se ofrece, con carácter exhaustivo, una lectura crítica del desarrollo del jardín a lo largo de todo el siglo XX (desde los proyectos del movimiento Arts & Crafts hasta las obras de Rem Koolhaas, Bernard Tschumi, Peter Eisenman, Peter Walker, West 8, etcétera) en sus diferentes escalas (desde el edificio al paisaje, pasando por el espacio urbano). El libro atiende a cuestiones diversas del jardín: unas de índole tipológica, otras compositivas, y también de significado, de relación con el paisaje, de definición de modelos espaciales o conceptos de movimiento, etcétera. Los ejemplos analizados se han escogido fundamentalmente por constituir aportaciones innovadoras, por haber abierto caminos formales, por haberse consolidado como modelos originales, y por ser ejemplos muy didácticos. El libro pretende ser un manual que ayude a entender las diversas maneras de enfrentarse al diseño del jardín a través de la significativa experiencia de su recorrido disciplinar, histórico, proyectual y crítico a través del siglo XX; y también que ayude a ubicar toda esta experiencia en la larga tradición histórica del jardín. En su mayoría, los autores elegidos son arquitectos que han diseñado jardines en consonancia con su propia arquitectura, pero también se incluyen paisajistas y otros artistas que, bien en solitario o en colaboración con arquitectos, han realizado una obra en la cual se ha primado la creación de sistemas espaciales antes que la mera plantación de especies vegetales, con lo que han conseguido resultados muy interesantes

Early Childhood Learning Guidelines in Latin America and the Caribbean Christine Harris- Van Keuren, Diana Rodríguez Gómez, 2013-01-15 This report details a comparative analysis of early learning guidelines (ELGs) for infants and toddlers less than 3 years of age in Latin America and the Caribbean. The 19 ELGs evaluated are utilized by 12 national and 7 regional programs located in 13 countries in the region. Three types of programs are included in this report: parenting programs (n=3), community centers (n=4) and child development centers (n=12). Two of the twelve child development center programs fall beyond the age range of this research (0-3 years) and are included as case studies. While parenting programs are included in this analysis, caution should be given to directly comparing their results to the results from community center or child development center programs. As described in the paper, parenting programs represent a distinct type of intervention.

Among the many specific questions examined in individual articles are: Is it true that women are subtly changing the academic profession? How is power concentrated in academic organizations? How successful are Latin America's private universities? What is the correlation between higher education and employment in Spain? The Cinema of Latin America Alberto Elena,Marina Díaz López,2004-03-24 The Cinema of Latin America is the first volume in the new 24 Frames series of studies of national and regional cinema. In taking an explicitly text-centered approach, the books in this series offer a unique way of considering the particular concerns, styles and modes of representation of numerous national cinemas around the world. This volume focuses on the vibrant practices that make up Latin American cinema, a historically important regional cinema and one that is increasingly returning to popular and academic appreciation. Through 24 individual concise and insightful essays that each consider one significant film or documentary, the editors of this volume have compiled a unique introduction to the cinematic output of countries as diverse as Brazil, Argentina, Cuba, Mexico, Bolivia, Chile and Venezuela. The work of directors such as Luis Buñuel, Thomas Guitierrez Alea, Walter Salles, and Alfonso Arau is discussed and the collection includes in-depth studies of seminal works as such Los Olvidados, The Hour of the Furnaces, Like Water For Chocolate, Foreign Land, and Amoros Perros.

The Brazilians José Honório Rodrigues, 2014-09-10 Brazil has long been a country in search of its own meaning and mission. Early in their history Brazilians began to puzzle over their surroundings and their relation to them. The eighteenth century produced an entire school of nativistic writers who, with the advent of independence, became fiery nationalists, still pursuing introspective studies of their homeland. Throughout the nineteenth century, the intellectuals of Brazil determined to define their nation, its character, and its aspirations. In this now well-established tradition, José Honório Rodrigues confronts the questions of who and what the Brazilian is, what Brazil stands for, where it has been, and where it is going. This study, originally published in Portuguese as Aspirações nacionais, was especially timely at a period when strong feelings of nationalism led Brazilians to seek to define their own image, and when the revolution of rising expectations disposed them to determine what goals they were seeking and how far they were on the road to achieving them. In order to understand and explain his nation, Rodrigues poses two questions: what are the national characteristics, and what are the national aspirations? Both questions are complex, but the reader will find well-reasoned answers, with a wealth of information on growth and development and abundant statistics to substantiate these answers.
