Kindbettgeschenke Nicole Brüderle,2016 The term childbed presents is understood to mean gifts that were presented to the mothers of new-born babies in childbed. Presents for the new mother given for example during visits by relatives, friends and neighbours, initially consisted of food and drink. Later they could also include applied art objects. The custom of presenting childbed presents has a long tradition and still partially continues until today. In the present study, applied art objects which can be identified as childbed presents are analyzed and discussed in relation to their art historical development from the early modern period to the early 19th century. In regard to their cultural and historical context, questions about the form, content and function of these gifts will be investigated. In doing so a special field of early modern art and culture becomes accessible for the first time.

Illerup Ådal. 11 : Die Schwerter : Textband Marcin Biborski,Jørgen Ilkjær,Jørgen Ilkjaer,2006 Vols. 11 and 12 of the Illerup publications present the largest known find of Roman sword blades, and the matching handles and sheaths. Here, as in the previous volumes, you will find full documentation of finds and contexts (supplemented by deluxe photos in Vol. 7 and plan drawings in Vol. 8). The main theme is the relationship between the Roman Empire and Northern Europe, which the sword material indeed exemplifies - the blades being mainly of Roman manufacture, while the handles and sheaths are of mixed origin. The analyses have been carried out in international cooperation, i.e. the sword blades and their stamps have been analysed by Marcin Biborski of the University of Krakow, while the handles and sheaths have been dealt with by Jørgen Ilkjær, and the summary and conclusion have been written by both of them in cooperation.
