Handbook of Research on Increasing the Competitiveness of SMEs Perez-Uribe, Rafael,Ocampo-Guzman, David,Salcedo-Perez, Carlos,Piñeiro-Cortes, Lorena,Ramirez-Salazar, Maria Del Pilar,2019-12-06 Countries have been competing against each other in order to attract financial investment and human capital for decades. However, emerging economies have a long way to go before they achieve the same levels of competitiveness as a developed economy. Lack of firm institutions, inadequate infrastructure, and a lack of trust in the legal system are urgent and unavoidable factors that emerging economies must address. The Handbook of Research on Increasing the Competitiveness of SMEs provides innovative insights on integrating, adapting, and building models and strategies compatible with the development of competitiveness in small and medium enterprises in emerging countries. The content within this publication examines quality management, organizational leadership, and digital security. It is designed for policymakers, entrepreneurs, managers, executives, business professionals, academicians, researchers, and students.

Investigación en Salud y Desarrollo David Padilla Góngora,Rubén Trigueros Ramos,José María Aguilar Parra,Remedios López Liria,2020-05-06 La adaptación es un tema central de muchas perspectivas contemporáneas sobre el desarrollo del niño y el adolescente. Estas perspectivas, que incluyen la ecología humana y los sistemas de desarrollo por nombrar sólo dos, destacan los procesos en curso por los que los jóvenes se sincronizan con los contextos y entornos en los que viven. Tales enfoques están bien representados en las páginas de Psicología del Desarrollo. Sin embargo, la investigación sobre otra forma importante de adaptación ha estado mucho menos representada en la revista: los mecanismos de adaptación condicional. El funcionamiento de esos mecanismos refleja la forma en que la selección natural ha configurado el cerebro en desarrollo para responder a los diferentes contextos ambientales -buenos y malos- de una manera evolutivamente adaptable. La teoría y las investigaciones sobre las adaptaciones condicionales son pertinentes para comprender las respuestas del desarrollo de los niños no sólo a los entornos de alto riesgo, como la exposición a la negligencia de los padres o a la pobreza, sino también a los entornos de gran apoyo. El paradigma científico dominante para explicar la adaptación de los niños a entornos de alto riesgo podría denominarse modelo de desarrollo psicopatológico. El modelo central del modelo es la suposición implícita, si no explícita, de que los entornos de alto riesgo afectan negativamente al bienestar de los niños y promueven trastornos del desarrollo, aunque no sean trastornos clínicos propiamente dichos. Esto ha llevado a los investigadores a centrar su atención en los efectos deletéreos de los factores de estrés en el hogar, el vecindario y la escuela y sus alrededores sobre los resultados de la salud mental, y especialmente el riesgo de psicopatología. El comportamiento disfuncional en la infancia y la adolescencia se considera a menudo la consecuencia natural de la exposición a contextos socioecológicos duros, impredecibles o incontrolables. Por consiguiente, el modelo de psicopatología del desarrollo hace hincapié en los costos e ignora en gran medida los beneficios de las respuestas de los niños a los entornos de riesgo, lo que dificulta la explicación de los motivos de los niños y adolescentes para su comportamiento. Esto ha llevado a muchos psicólogos del desarrollo a considerar esas respuestas (por ejemplo, la externalización del comportamiento en la infancia, el comportamiento imprudente en la adolescencia) como problemas que necesitan una solución. Una perspectiva de desarrollo evolutivo desafía este punto de vista predominante. Dado que los entornos de crianzas estresantes y de apoyo siempre han formado parte de la experiencia humana, los sistemas de desarrollo han sido moldeados por la selección natural para responder de manera adaptable tanto a los contextos de desarrollo supuestamente positivos como a los negativos. Por consiguiente, cuando los niños se encuentran con entornos estresantes, no se perturba tanto su desarrollo como se dirige o regula hacia estrategias que son adaptables en condiciones estresantes, incluso si esas estrategias son actualmente perjudiciales para el bienestar a largo plazo del individuo o de la sociedad en su conjunto. Por el contrario, cuando los niños se encuentran con entornos bien dotados de recursos y de apoyo, dirige o regula el desarrollo hacia estrategias que son adaptables en esos contextos

Catalán,2025-02-07 Society's most important challenges require the best evidence to address the problems they entail. This is the main objective of the Research Topic "Seeking Equal Opportunities and Safe Environments: Research from a Gender Perspective". Considering that gender violence is a significant public health problem and social scourge affecting millions of individuals around the world, this issue aims to tackle all forms of gender-based violence, discrimination and inequalities in order to foster safe environments for all people. High-level psychosocial, cultural, political, health, and educational research is needed to the pursuit of equal opportunities in the 21st century and, very importantly, to do so with a social impact that is reflected in an improvement of society. To meet the challenges in society and following The Sustainable Development Goals from the United Nations 2030 Agenda, research is sought, inter alia, on vulnerable populations who are specially affected by gender violence: children, adolescents, women, migrant groups, ethnic minorities, groups with special educational needs, LGBTIQ collective. This is intended to contribute to the objectives of Goal 4 (Quality Education), Goal 5 (Achieve gender equality and empower all women and girls), Goal 10 (Reduce inequality) and Goal 16 (Promote justice, peaceful and inclusive societies). With this in mind, to carry out this important task, we are looking for research that provides evidence on the current global situation from a gender perspective and interventions that promote and support equality between men and women in a safe social context where violence and discrimination have no place.

Desarrollo de habilidades directivas para emprendedores Manuel Alejandro Tejeda Martín,Fernando Franco Barraza,Gloria Angélica Hernández Robledo,2024-12-04 En el dinámico mercado de anteojos y lentes de contacto en México, valorado en más de 35 millones de dólares y con un potencial de 200 millones, esta investigación se centra en analizar los factores que convierten a los optometristas emprendedores en empresarios competentes. Con 4 158 licenciados en Optometría y 12 636 establecimientos de comercio, el estudio destaca la falta de estadísticas sobre pasantes en Optometría. Basándose en la Teoría de los recursos y capacidades, se enfatiza la importancia de las habilidades directivas y administrativas para el éxito empresarial. El primer capítulo contextualiza el mercado, mientras que el segundo aborda aspectos teóricos. Los capítulos tres y cuatro presentan un caso de estudio con encuestas a optometristas, revelando la necesidad de formación continua en habilidades administrativas. Se propone un plan de formación de dos años para profesionales de la salud, con tres objetivos estratégicos y políticas de actualización.

LGBTQ+ Affirmative Psychological Interventions Reynel Alexander Chaparro,Roberto L. Abreu,2023-06-12 This book presents descriptions of interventions, results of empirical research, and theoretical contributions developed by Latine/x psychologists based on affirmative approaches aimed at promoting acceptance and understanding of LGBTIQ+ people. Contributions in this volume bring together the work of Latine/x scholars, practitioners, and activists across five Latin American countries or territories (Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Mexico, and Puerto Rico) and in the United States, in an effort to provide multicultural perspectives to LGBTIQ+ affirmative psychological interventions that highlight local, regional and national particularities. Chapters in this volume go beyond contributions made by applied psychology fields (e.g., clinical and counselling psychology), where affirmative orientations are predominantly located, and include contributions from other fields of psychological research such as social and community psychology. The book is divided in two parts. Chapters in the first part focus on the experiences of trans and gender non-conforming people, with emphasis on contemporary systemic issues that affect gender identity among Latine/x communities and those who do not conform to hegemonic narratives about gender. Chapters in the second part focus on sexual identity among Latine/x LGBTIQ+ people and their families and communities. Contributions in this part present discussions about sexual orientation (grouped in LG/LGB identities), sex and gender dissidence, and the inclusion of intersex. LGBTQ+ Affirmative Psychological Interventions: A Latine/x Perspective will be of interest to both researchers and practitioners in different fields of psychology – such as clinical, counselling, social, and community psychology – interested in a multicultural perspective to understand and develop LGBTQ+ affirmative actions to fight against the repathologization of individuals, groups, families and diverse communities.
